NYSIM/CMS host “Simulation as a Teaching Tool”

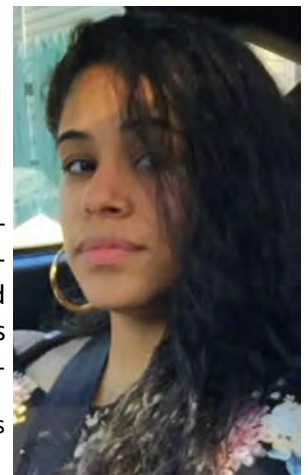

2017 CMS Participants and Faculty

On June 13—16, NYSIM hosted the Center for Medical Simulation’s “Simulation as a Teaching Tool” instructor training course. This course is considered the premier faculty development program in simulation education. Mary Fey was the course director alongside Demian Szyld from CMS. Grace Ng and Danny Lugassy were course faculty. Course participants included local faculty from NYULMC and CUNY as well as national and international guests who traveled from as far as Paris, France and Bratislava in Slovakia.

NYSIM would like to introduce Cynthia Reyes—Simulation Operations Specialist

Cynthia Reyes received her B.A. in Psychology at CUNY Hunter College. Cynthia had professional training as an Licensed Practical Nurse and participated in specialized coursework in the field of nursing during her high school years. Having such experience has led her into the simulation world where she had the opportunity to collaborate with nursing educators and prospective nursing students. She believes that building a strong foundation and educating early in a student's careers is key to creating an exceptional well rounded professional.

NYSIM would like to introduce Sidney Banson—Office Assistant

Sidney received his A.A.S in Criminal Justice at Onondaga Community College located in Syracuse, NY. Before joining the NYSIM team, he previously worked for the Board Of Education in Long island City, serving as a liaison between Bus Vendors & charter Schools to ensure the best quality service for special needs children. When Sidney’s not working he enjoys going to concerts and playing tennis for recreation. His future endeavors include going back to school to pursue a degree in Sports medicine and starting his own tennis clinic for under privileged youth.

NYSIM IT Update

NYSIM IT has collaborated with the Medical Center IT’s networking group to update the guest wireless system to LMCguest at our center. The LMCguest wireless is also used throughout the NYU Langone Medical Center which allows guest accounts from those locations to work seamlessly at NYSIM. If you want more information or have any questions regarding the LMCguest Wireless service, please feel free to reach us at nysimIT@nyumc.org.
