

NYSIM Community Meeting Monday, June 10, 2013

“Assessment Concepts and Issues in Simulation Environments: Paradise or Purgatory?”

Guest Speaker: Robert Simon, EdD

Robert Simon is an educator who has specialized in research, development, and training for high performance, high stress teams in aviation and medicine. He was the Principal Investigator for the US Army’s Aircrew Coordination Training Program, the US Air Force’s Crew Resource Management Program, and for the MedTeams program, a joint civilian and military program to transition lessons-learned from aviation crew resource management to healthcare. He joined the Center for Medical Simulation as Education Director in December of 2002 and continues in that capacity.

Beginning in 2004, he established himself as the Director of the Center’s Institute for Medical Simulation which is intended to train clinical educators to use simulation as a teaching tool. Dr. Simon is on the faculty of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Harvard Medical School, the Institute of Health Professions, and the University of Cantabria. He received his doctorate in education from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.
